- It contains 15+ XML-based UI screens with implementation of fragments navigation
- Includes automated quiz evaluation engine with real time score calculation

Emotion Recognition using Deep Learning
Github
An Emotion recognition system

- Analyzed 35,887 facial expressions, outperforming baseline accuracy by 30% through advanced CNN architecture and data augmentation
- Trained deep learning model on imbalanced dataset (7,164 happy vs 3,205 surprise images), achieving 73–78% precision on dominant emotion classes through regularization techniques

Accident Severity Prediction using PySpark
Github
Accident severity prediction project using PySpark

- Analyzed 2M+ crash records with 29 attributes using PySpark MLlib, building end-to-end distributed ML pipeline for severity prediction with 80/20 train-test split
- Feature engineering implemented on 10 numerical variables and 4 categorical features, creating unified feature vector for model training

- Implemented multiclass classification using Logistic Regression and Spark XGBoost
